DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12/1/06 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ochs (4,813,561) or German et al. (6,276,543).

Ochs discloses, in figs. 3 and 4, a tamper evident closure, comprising: a body portion comprising a base and an internally threaded downwardly depending sidewall portion; and a tamper evident band 12 frangibly connected to said sidewall portion, said tamper evident band comprising: a main band portion, and a J-hook retention member 21 that includes a plurality of pleated retaining elements, and wherein each of said retaining elements has an upper portion including at least one inwardly directed pleat fold, said upper portion being constructed and arranged to engage retention structure of a container in order to prevent upward movement of said tamper evident band with respect to the container, and wherein at least one of the pleated retaining elements is further constructed and arranged to engage the container so as to resist rotation with respect to the container, whereby separation of said tamper evident band from said body portion is better assured when the closure is unscrewed from the container. The retaining members comprises a leading edge and a trailing edge (see fig. 4); wherein the trailing edge has an abutment surface being parallel to a radius of the closure.

German et al. disclose, in figs. 4 and 5, a tamper evident closure, comprising: a body portion comprising a base and an internally threaded downwardly depending sidewall portion; and a tamper evident band 35 frangibly connected to said sidewall portion, said tamper evident band comprising: a main band portion, and a J-hook retention member 37 that includes a plurality of pleated retaining elements, and wherein each of said retaining elements has an upper portion including at least one inwardly directed pleat fold, said upper portion being constructed and arranged to engage retention structure of a container in order to prevent upward movement of said tamper evident band with respect to the container, and wherein at least one of the pleated retaining elements is further constructed and arranged to engage the container so as to resist rotation with respect to the container, whereby separation of said tamper evident band from said body portion is better assured when the closure is unscrewed from the container. The retaining members comprises a leading edge and a trailing edge (see fig. 5 A&B); wherein the trailing edge has an abutment surface being parallel to a radius of the closure.
